How have humans adapted to the Arctic, the tropics, high altitude, rising sea levels? What knowledge do indigenous peoples possess about plants, fish, mammals, algae, stone? Have people achieved environmental justice? How do human perceptions influence understanding of climate change?

Environmental Anthropology
ANTH 2005
General Education Social Sciences (GE:SO)
Spring Semester 2020: 12:30 T Th

This course is offered as part of the Semester Experience at the Coast: Five courses taught at ECU’s Outer Banks Campus on Roanoke Island. The course will have a field research component on 4 Saturdays. Address questions to: Dr. Griffith, griffithd@ecu.edu